

Dial 711, Connect, and Communicate

Wyoming Relay provides full telephone accessibility to people who are deaf, deaf-blind, or hard of hearing.

What is Wyoming Relay?

Wyoming Relay is a free 24-hours-a-day service that allows people who are deaf, hard-of-hearing, and/or deaf-blind to place and receive telephone calls. Wyoming Relay users can communicate freely with businesses, friends, or family who use a standard telephone.

All calls are strictly confidential and no records of any conversations are maintained.

Voice Relay for Hearing Callers

711 or 800-877-9975

Standard telephone users can easily initiate calls to TTY users. No special equipment is needed. You can use any type of phone from anywhere. The Communication Assistant types the hearing person's spoken words to the TTY user and reads back the typed replies.

How to contact a person who uses a TTY

- 1 Dial 711 (or 1-800-877-9975) You will hear "Wyoming Relay Communication Assistant # (each Communication Assistant has a unique identification number) may I have the number you are calling please?"
- 2 Give the Communication Assistant the area code and telephone number you wish to call and any further instructions.
- 3 The Communication Assistant will process your call. When the TTY caller answers the call, the Communication Assistant will type what you say to the TTY caller. Make sure to say "Go Ahead" when it's the TTY caller's turn to respond.
- 4 The TTY caller will read what was said on the device. The Communication Assistant will then read aloud everything the TTY caller types to you.

TTY Relay

711 or 800-877-9965    (Español: 800-829-2783)

A person who is deaf or hard of hearing can use a TTY to type their message, which is read aloud to the other caller by a Communication Assistant. The Communication Assistant types the spoken message of the hearing caller to the TTY user.

- 1 The TTY user types a conversation to the Communication Assistant. Remember to type "GA" (Go Ahead) at the end of each message.
- 2 The Communication Assistant then voices the typed message to the other party.
- 3 After the TTY user types "GA," it is the other party's turn to respond.
- 4 The Communication Assistant relays the other party's spoken words by typing them back to you.

TeleBraille Relay

711 or 800-877-9965

People who are deafblind or have low vision can use a TTY and/or TeleBraille device to type words to a Communication Assistant, who then speaks the typed words to the other caller, and types all spoken words back to the deafblind caller. The average typing speed is slower than traditional TTY relay, and can be modified to as slow as five words per minute.

- 1 The other party's conversation to a deafblind caller goes through a Communication Assistant.
- 2 The Communication Assistant types the other party's conversation to the deafblind caller.
- 3 The deafblind caller reads the conversation through a TeleBraille device.

Voice Carry-Over

711 or 877-877-1474

Voice Carry-Over (VCO) allows a caller with hearing loss to speak directly to a hearing person. When the hearing person speaks to a VCO caller, the relay operator serves as the VCO caller's "ears" and types everything said to the VCO caller's TTY or VCO device. If an elderly person with progressive hearing loss has difficulty hearing over the phone, VCO may be the perfect communication solution for them.

- 1 The mother, as the VCO user who has a hearing loss, speaks to her son directly.
- 2 The son speaks to his mother, and the Communication Assistant types everything the son says, word for word, to the mother.
- 3 The mother reads on a TTY screen what her son speaks

Dial 911 for Emergency Calls Only

In case of emergency, TTY users should call directly to the 911 emergency services center for their community.

TTY users who cannot obtain emergency service via 911 may call 711 and inform the Communication Assistant there is an emergency situation.

PLEASE NOTE: Calling through Wyoming Relay may take longer than calling 911 directly.
